Devoted James Bond movie fans flocked to the Casablanca Inn in St. Augustine in late August to celebrate "Shaken, Not Stirred," the 50th anniversary of James Bond.

Casablanca Inn's Tini Martini Bar was the backdrop for the event, where guests were invited to walk the red carpet and watch three legendary Bond films. Guests mingled on the verandah, sipped signature Bond martinis, dined on complimentary hors d'oeuvres and participated in a Bond Costume Contest.

Casablanca Inn of St. Augustine is a restored 1914 Mediterranean revival bed and breakfast offering twenty-three suits and rooms in a premium bayfront location in historic St. Augustine.

The Tini Martini Bar includes outdoor seating, a huge selection of martinis, 32 wines by the glass and a choice of 28 beers. The bar offers live jazz and blues on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. For more information, visit casablancainn.com.
